Edwin Ray Guthrie Wikipedia

Edwin Ray Guthrie (January 9 1886 in Lincoln Nebraska – April 23 1959 in Seattle Washington) was a behavioral psychologist. He first worked as a mathematics teacher and philosopher but switched to psychology when he was 33. He spent most of his career at the University of Washington where he became full professor and then emeritus professor in psychology.

Learning Wikipedia

Habituation is an example of non-associative learning in which the strength or probability of a response diminishes when the stimulus is repeated. The response is typically a reflex or unconditioned response. Thus habituation must be distinguished from extinction which is an associative process. In operant extinction for example a response declines because it is no longer followed by a reward.

Siva divinit  Wikipedia

Anche se la figura religiosa del dio post-vedico Siva sicuramente corrisponde per gli studiosi a quella del dio vedico Rudra la natura di questa corrispondenza   tuttavia controversa.

Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) is a neurodevelopmental disorder characterized by a persistent pattern of inattention and/or hyperactivity-impulsivity that interferes with normal functioning. The symptoms must be present in two or more settings (e.g., at home, school, or work). ADHD is most commonly diagnosed in children and adolescents but can persist into adulthood. The disorder is caused by a combination of genetic and environmental factors. Treatment typically involves a combination of medication and behavioral therapy.
